Dynamic Missouri women to be featured at Governor's Women's Summit

COLUMBIA, Mo. -- The Missouri Women's Council invites women from across the state to register for the Fourth Annual Governor's Economic Summit for Working Women, scheduled for April 25 to 26 at the Holiday Inn Select Executive Center in Columbia, Mo.

This year's summit has been expanded to a two-day format to include additional sessions and access to more information than ever before. Lt. Gov. Joe Maxwell and State Treasurer Nancy Farmer, along with Paula Hertwig Hopkins, Columbia assistance city manager, will welcome attendees during the opening session Wednesday, April 25. Dr. Ginny Barnes of G.B. Communications Inc. will present the opening address entitled "The Three C's of Communication." Later that evening, renowned business comedian Terri Williams will entertain summit attendees with a humorous outlook on business.

The summit will come to a close Thursday following a keynote luncheon address entitled, "Power Strategies for Women," presented by Susan Solovic, president of Susan-Says and author of "The Girls' Guide to Power and Success."

A $65 registration fee includes access to nearly 30 sessions, admission to the Working Women's Exhibit Hall, an evening reception, a continental breakfast, the keynote luncheon and sessions that will give you the information you need to make your career a success. Deadline for registrations is April 6.

Summit sponsors include: Missouri Division of Workforce Development, Missouri Lottery, Missouri American Water Company, U.S. Department of Labor - Women's Bureau, Dial Corporation and Attorney Clyde P. Angle.
